NOTICE TO CONTRIBUTORS OF MEMOIRS.—Authors are reminded that, under an arrangement dating from 1871, the acceptance of Memoirs, and the days on which they are to be read, are now, as far as possible, determined by the Organising Committees for the several Sections before the beginning of the Meeting. It has therefore become necessary, in order to give an opportunity to the Committees of doing justice to the several communications, that each Author should prepare beforehand an Abstract of his Memoir, of a length suitable for insertion in the published Transactions of the Association, and the Council request that he will send it, together with the original Memoir, by book-post, at once, addressed thus:—"General Secretaries, British Association, 22, Albemarle-street, London, W. For Section....." If it should be inconvenient to the Author that his Paper should be read on any particular day, he is requested to send information thereof to the Secretaries in a separate note.

No Report, Paper, or Abstract can be inserted in the Report of the Association unless it is in the Assistant-Secretary's hands before the conclusion of the Meeting.

A MEDLEY OF NOTABLES: What they said and What others said of them. By G. F. S.

"This little book contains on one side of each page a quotation from some well-known author, and on the other side a brief notice of this author by other authors. If we turn to Shakespeare, for instance, we find quoted Dante's description of Faust's death, while there are given notices of Shakespeare by Keats, Ben Jonson, Browning, Burnside, and by some anonymous writer who likely enough is the editor. From him we learn that 'Shakespeare went before all men, and stands in the array of human intellect like the sun in the system, single and unapproached.'"—Saturday Review.

Published at 21 Castle-street, Holborn.

A BRIEF DEFENCE OF SUPER-

NATURAL CHRISTIANITY. Being a Review of the Philosophical principles and Historical Arguments of the book entitled "Supernatural Religion." By JOHN KENNEDY, M.A., D.D., Professor of Apologetic Theology in New College, London.

VIXEN: MISS BRADDON'S RECENT NOVEL.

"In her new novel, 'Vixen,' Miss Braddon has given another proof, not only of the inexhaustibility, but of the infinite variety of her powers. Here is a book which, though full of strong human interest, of rapid movement and exciting incident, is not, in the conventional sense of the word, sensational. Miss Braddon shows here that she can write an intensely interesting story without having recourse to abnormal character and portentous occurrences."—World, April 15th, 1879.

"The heroine is at once a delightful companion, and one of the most natural and fascinating characters the authoress has ever drawn. Her picture ought to be painted by George Leslie or Story; and her life, her sorrows, and her trials may be instantly recommended to the young and old of her own sex. Each character in this book appears to have been drawn from the life, and by the exercise of consummate skill they seem to grow and expand under our eyes, as we follow their interesting careers. 'Vixen' will be read with admiration and delight."—Daily Telegraph, April 14th, 1879.
